NEW The Dialysis Infection Crisis in the United States: A Call to Action

Please note that CME credits vary per program.

New at Kidney Week 2017

Precision Medicine in Renal Diseases (Advances in Research Conference)

Critical advances in molecular and clinical medicine can illuminate comprehensive genetic, molecular, structural, and clinical aspects of diseases. Learn about the latest strategies to integrate these multi-scalar data sets to define mechanisms that cut across these knowledge domains and propel innovative approaches in novel clinical trials.

Advancing Clinical Research in Nephrology: Approaches and Methods

Epidemiology, clinical trials, and qualitative research define modern clinical investigation. Learn about innovative approaches to data acquisition, stakeholder engagement, systems biology, precision medicine, implementation science, the role of patient reported outcomes and qualitative research, as well as fundamental concepts of clinical research.

What You Need to Know about Diabetes and Diabetic Kidney Disease

This program addresses the background epidemic of diabetes mellitus, the pathophysiology of diabetic CKD, current approaches to diabetic CKD and hypertension, new drugs in development, the growing use of hypoglycemic agents in diabetic CKD, and unique dialysis and transplant problems facing patients with ESRD due to diabetes.

The Dialysis Infection Crisis in the United States: A Call to Action

This interactive program focuses on the urgent need to enhance infection control and prevention for all infectious threats in U.S. dialysis facilities. Nephrologists play a critical role as team leaders in transformational change that continuously improves the safety of life-sustaining dialysis, protecting patients and health care personnel. Tools and education will enable nephrologists to lead the pursuit of zero preventable infections.

Kidney Week 2017

The Intersection of Basic Science and Clinical Care: The Future of Personalized Nephrology

The American Society of Nephrology (ASN) is proud to host the world's largest and most dynamic meeting of kidney professionals. ASN Kidney Week provides participants with unparalleled opportunities to share their work, learn about the latest advances in the field, develop new collaborations, and listen to provocative and engaging exchanges between leading experts.

The Intersection of Basic Science and Clinical Care: The Future of Personalized Nephrology is the theme of this year's Kidney Week. This honors the commitment and dedication of kidney health professionals worldwide who build the future of kidney care by pushing the boundaries of research and clinical discovery.

High-Impact Clinical Studies Trials

Saturday, November 4, 10:30 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.

This high-profile session features clinical trials in nephrology that will inform future patient care.

Oral Abstract Sessions

Thursday, November 2 – Saturday, November 4, 4:30 p.m. – 6:30 p.m.

No meeting in nephrology provides a better view of the world's cutting edge science: AKI, Bioengineering and Informatics, Cell Biology, CKD, Developmental Biology and Inherited Kidney Diseases, Diabetes, Dialysis, Divalent Ions, Fluid/Electrolytes/Acid Base, Genetic Diseases, Geriatric Nephrology, Glomerular Disorders, Hypertension, Nephrology Education, Nutrition/Inflammation/Metabolism, Patient Safety, Pharmacokinetics/Pharmacodynamics/Pharmacogenetics, and Transplantation.

Poster Sessions

Thursday, November 2 – Saturday, November 4, 9:30 a.m. – 2:30 p.m.

View thousands of posters daily on the scientific exposition floor. Visit each day from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. to talk with investigators about their presentations, expand your knowledge and develop new collaborations.

CME/CNE/CPE credits will not be awarded for these materials.

Scientific Exposition

Thursday, November 2 – Saturday, November 4, 9:30 a.m. – 2:30 p.m.

This unparalleled international venue provides demonstrations of products and services that will enhance your understanding of the latest advancements in pharmaceuticals, devices, imaging, publications, and services important for delivering high-quality patient care. You can engage in peer-to-peer interactions with representatives and businesses that form an integral part of your day-to-day fight against kidney diseases.

Welcome Reception

Thursday, November 2, 6:30 p.m. – 7:30 p.m.

ASN will host a Welcome Reception for all Kidney Week participants in the exhibit hall. This kick-off event will provide participants the opportunity to meet peers from across the globe, and an additional unopposed hour to engage with exhibitors and explore the exhibit hall.

Communities Lounge—New!

Thursday, November 2 – Saturday, November 4, 9:30 a.m. – 2:30 p.m.

ASN proudly launches the Communities Lounge, a new attraction that extends the exciting professional network expanding daily through the online ASN Communities. The Communities Lounge enhances the Kidney Week experience—visit and connect with those working in your area of study, or working in areas you want to know more about. The lounge is located in the exhibit hall and features:

- ▲ ASN Community Leaders
- ▲ Central Connectivity Bar
- ▲ Meeting Quads
- ▲ Relaxation Zone

Stop by booth 917 to explore the ASN Communities world.

Kidney Week On-Demand™

This online program contains approximately 200 hours of Annual Meeting presentations and is available to fully paid participants at no additional cost. View presenters' slides while listening to fully synchronized audio from your computer, tablet, or smartphone.

CME/CNE/CPE credits will not be awarded for these materials.
